

Education

---

Since 2018	PhD, University of Cambridge, History and Philosophy of Science Topic: Why we need to talk about preferences Supervisor: Dr. Anna Alexandrova
Spring 2020	Visitor, Carnegie Mellon University, Department of Philosophy Host: Kevin Zollman
2016 - 2018	Master of Arts, University of Bayreuth, Philosophy and Economics GPA: 1.3 (1= highest, 5 = lowest) First ranked graduate of my Cohort
Spring 2016	Semester at EIPE, Erasmus University of Rotterdam
2012 - 2016 2014	Bachelor of Arts, University of Bayreuth, Philosophy and Economics Exchange Semester, Erasmus University Rotterdam

Areas of Specialization

---

Philosophy of Economics, Game and Social Choice Theory, Philosophy of Social Science

Areas of Competence

---

General Philosophy of Science, Philosophy of Cognitive Science, Philosophy and Public Policy, Meta-Ethics

Professional Experience

---

2020	Teaching (full responsibility), University of Bayreuth <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>BA Seminar: Preferences and Welfare in Economics (Summer 2020)</li></ul> Designing and Recording a Podcast with Dr. Anna Alexandrova as supplementary material for her Philosophy of Economics Lecture at the University of Cambridge.
2019-2020	Graduate Assistant of the BSPS Committee
2019	Convener (together with Olesya Bondarenko) of the "Social Epistemology of Science" reading group at HPS Cambridge  Convener (together with Dr. Christopher Clarke) of the "Measuring Wellbeing by Eliciting Preferences?" reading group at CRASSH Cambridge
Since 2018	Supervisor, University of Cambridge <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Philosophy and Scientific Practice (Michaelmas and Lent 2018, Michaelmas and Lent 2019)</li></ul>

- Philosophy of Economics (Michaelmas 2018, Michaelmas, Michaelmas 2020)
- 2018 Organizer of the 2018 Bayreuth Wittgenstein Lectures
Topic: Climate Change and Obligations to future Generations
Lecturer: Prof. Joseph Heath (University of Toronto)
- 2017 Teaching (full responsibility), University of Bayreuth
  - Philosophical Writing (Summer 2017)
- 2015 - 2018 Teaching Assistant, University of Bayreuth
  - Introduction to Philosophical Analysis (Winter 2017)
  - Introduction to Philosophy of Science (Winter 2016)
  - Introduction to Ethics (Winter 2015)
  - Introduction to Philosophy of Science (Summer 2015)
- 2016 - 2017 Organizer of Think! (International Student Conference in Analytic Philosophy)
- February - April 2015 Internship at The Institute for Economic Policy, Cologne
- 2012 - 2013 Project Manager of Bayreuth Dialogue (Symposium for Philosophy, Economics and Society)

Talks, Comments and Publications

---

Talks and Comments

Upcoming:

- Talk: Normative Models and their Success (joint work with Marcel Jahn)
at DGPhil 2020
- Talk: New functionalism and the social and behavioral sciences (joint work with James Grayot)
at 5th International Economic Philosophy Conference
- Talk: Why we need to talk about preferences
at PSA 2020 [postponed due to Covid-19]

Past:

- Talk: New functionalism and the social and behavioral sciences (joint work with James Grayot)
at ANPOSS 2021 Tokyo, Japan
- Talk: Why we need to talk about preferences
at BSPS 2020 [cancelled due to Covid-19]
- Talk: Normative Models and their Success (joint work with Marcel Jahn)
at POSS-RT 2020

- Talk: On the Dispositional Conception of Preferences at EPSA 2019
- Talk: The Econ above or the Econ within at ENPOSS 2019
- Talk: On the Dispositional Conception of Preferences at INEM 2019
- Talk: On the Dispositional Conception of Preferences at INEM Summer school at Lake Como 2019
- Talk: On the Dispositional Conception of Preferences at POSS-RT 2019
- Comment: “Representing moral choice dispositions: from moral preferences to moral reasons” by Prof. Christian List at Preference-based modelling workshop 2018 at LSE
- Talk: Can Economics be a Separate Science? at 5th LSE-Bayreuth Student Philosophy Conference 2017
- Talk: Folk Functionalism and Realism about Commonsensicals at Think! 2016

Publications

- Beck, L., & Jahn, M. (2021). Normative Models and Their Success. Philosophy of the Social Sciences, 51(2), 123-150.
- Beck, L., & Alexandrova, A. (2019). Measuring utility: from the marginal revolution to behavioral economics: by Ivan Moscati, Oxford studies in history of economics, New York, Oxford University Press, 2018, 352 pages, £ 22.99 (paperback), ISBN: 9780199372775. Journal of Economic Methodology, 26(4), 380-384.
- Beck, L., (2017). Can economics be a separate science. Rerum Causae, 9(2).

Funding and Travel Grants

---

Funding

- PhD Scholarship of the German Academic Scholarship Foundation (since 2019)
- PhD Scholarship of the Foundation of German Business (2018-2019)

Travel Grants

- Travel grant of King’s College Cambridge for POSS-RT 2020
- Travel and accommodation grant of HPS Cambridge for visit at CMU

- Travel grant of the German Academic Scholarship Foundation for EPSA 2019
- Travel grant of the German Academic Scholarship Foundation for ENPOSS 2019
- Travel grant of the German Academic Scholarship Foundation for INEM 2019
- Travel grant of Young Scholars Initiative for INEM (declined)
- Travel grant of King's College Cambridge for POSS-RT 2019
- Travel grant of HPS Cambridge for POSS-RT 2019

Service to the Profession

---

Referring

- Philosophy of Science

Non-academic work

- Secretary of the King's College Graduate Society (2020)
- Co-organizer of the seminar "Mental Health in the Workplace" at LSE for awardees of the Foundation of German Business (2019)
- Co-Representative of my Master Cohort (2016 - 2018)

Other Experience

---

Languages

- German (native)
- English (proficient)
- Spanish (basics)
- Latin (Latinum certificate)

IT Skills

- SciLab (advanced)

Cambridge, 16.06.2020